Haus der Religionen

Bern

Haus der Religionen am Europaplatz
© SelfishSeahorse, Haus der Religionen, CC BY 4.0

Type of building:

Clients and Developers:
Stadt Bern

Architect:
Bauart, Bern
www.bauart.ch urbanoffice,Zürich/
Amsterdam
www.urbanoffice.eu

Building contractor:
Halter AG, Zürich
www.halter.ch

Completion:
 2014

Project link:
http://www.haus-der-religionen.ch/

Shaping formwork Fratec® was used to realise a decorative ceiling at the "house of religions" in Bern.

The cultural building "house of religions" located in Bern provides a platform for open dialogue between different religions. Five of the world's major religions have their own cultural areas in the building.

The decorative ceilings of the indoor areas are designed in exposed concrete and unite symbols of different world religions. These ornaments were created with the MAX FRANK shaping formwork Fratec®.

Find more information here: German Case Study "Haus der Religionen"

Haus der Religionen

Bern

Decorative ceiling realised with shaping formwork Fratec®
© Rob Lewis

Decorative ceiling realised with shaping formwork Fratec®
© Rob Lewis

Decorative ceiling realised with shaping formwork Fratec®
© Rob Lewis

Installation of the shaping formwork Fratec®
© www.maxfrank.com

House of religions at Europaplatz in Bern
© SelfishSeahorse, Haus der Religionen, CC BY 4.0